

Success is not a Matter of Luck

Success is not a matter of luck. In order to achieve success you need to work very hard. But according to psychologist if we love our work we would never feel it hard or tiring. There is no substitute for hard work. It is also important to have a purpose and a specific goal in order to aim it. We must decide our aim in life and just work for it. Initially it the attempts would be difficult, but it gets easier as we put more efforts. At the end we get use to it and it becomes our habit. If a man has purpose and an aim than nothing is impossible. Confidence, courage and strong will power is most important to achieve success.it is important to do with perfection .but at the same time one should also keep in mind that is better to do something than to do nothing due to scare of losing so courage play vital role to achieve goal.In the country business of life industry can do anything which genius can do.genius is nothing but quality of making persistent efforts rather than facing thousand failure.Fortune favour the brave.There is no gain without taking risk.In life we should make bold decision instantly. Never wait for right time. If a person has concentration and determination then it is very easy to gain success in any field at any point of life.So success is not a matter of luck .It depends on firm determination and fullpreparation .
